Elizabeth recently completed her second year of law school at the University of Ottawa.

Preceding her legal education, she earned an Honours degree in Political Science from McGill University. During her time at McGill, she served as president of the Foundation for International Medical Relief of Children and volunteered actively with TEDxMcGill, Best Buddies, and within the Montreal community.

At the University of Ottawa, Elizabeth fosters a sense of community by mentoring 1L students, participating in the Student External Committee, and serving as Vice President of Communications for the International Law Students Association.

In her free time, she enjoys writing, exploring new coffee shops, and maintaining her daily streak in The New York Times Wordle.
